

The European Aviation Safety Agency

The European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) is the centrepiece of the European Union's strategy for aviation safety. Based in Cologne, Germany, the Agency has been given specific regulatory and executive tasks to promote and maintain the highest common standards of safety and environmental protection in civil aviation.

The Agency is currently seeking applications for the position of:

Flight Crew Licensing Standardisation Team Leader – Medical (F/M)

(Ref. EASA/AD/2010/006 - Temporary Agent AD 8)

The Flight Crew Licensing Standardisation Team Leader – Medical reports to the Section Manager of the Flight Crew Licensing Standardisation Section. The jobholder will be in particular responsible for: the efficient conduct of standardisation inspections of the Member States, and investigations of Aeromedical Centres, in the domain of the Basic Regulation and its implementing Rules in the field of FCL, Part Medical; coordinating with the other Directorates of the Agency and relevant organisations when preparing standardisation activities; leading or being part of the teams established for the investigations of each State under his/her responsibilities, in accordance with the Agency's procedures.

We offer an attractive and competitive remuneration package (five-year contract, which may be renewed), invest in training as well as in the welfare of staff and act as an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Interested candidates are invited to consult the detailed vacancy notice and follow the application procedure as described in the recruitment section of the Agency's website: <http://www.easa.europa.eu>

The deadline for sending in applications is 12/03/2010.

Your safety is our mission